

Honorlock Overview

What is Honorlock?

Honorlock is a remote proctoring service that creates a fair testing environment for all students by protecting exams and academic integrity.

How Does Honorlock Work?

Honorlock's remote proctoring services works directly within Blackboard and combines the benefits of AI software with those of live test proctors. The software monitors your exam session and alerts a live, US-based test proctor if it detects any problems. This means that you won't be watched during the entire exam. Once alerted, our human proctors can assess the situation and then enter your exam session, via chat, to help you get back on track.
